Big Job

Mr. O. S. Hord, contracting engineer of this city, has closed a contract with Cuyahoga county, Ohio, for grading of Fairmount avenue, near Cleveland. This contract calls for removing 60,000 yards of dirt and the placing of 1,150 cubic yards of concrete. The fact that Mr. Hord has secured the contract is a sore guarantee that the Ohio parties will secure a first-class job from a high-class and competent contractor.

MUCH INTEREST MANIFESTED

At the Meeting For Men and Boys
Last Night—Meetings Tonight and Tomorrow Night

About two hundred men and boys attended the meeting at the Courthouse last night in the interest of the Men and Religion Forward Movement, and the interest manifested was of that kind that showed there was a desire to learn more of this great movement's plans as carried out so successfully in the larger cities.

The speakers were Dr. L. J. Helzer and Mr.
J. M. Stick, and both fully explained the principle features of the various departments connected with this great work.

The meetings today will be as follows: At 3:30 o'clock this afternoon there will be an institute held at the First M. E. Church, South, presided over by Dr. G. C. Terry and Mr. W.
M. Space, both of whom will address the rally at the Courthouse tonight.

Tomorrow's services will consist of a rally at the Courthouse in the afternoon at 2:30 for men and boys and another at 7:30, both being addressed by Dr. J. L. Cotton and Mr. Leon P.
Lewis of Louisville.

All men and boys in this city are cordially invited to attend these meetings.

The Auguste Band will be here tonight and a big parade will be one of tomorrow afternoon's features.

News of The Courts

COUNTY COURT.

A paper bearing date of November 5th, 1911, purporting to be the last will and testament of Mrs. Julia Frediano, was produced in Court and ordered filed. Due execution of said paper was proven by the testimony of Mrs. E. Tolla Thomas Hunter, and Mrs.
Mortia Gullfoyle, attesting witnesses. The decedent bequeathed to the five children of her brother, Timothy McNamara, all the property that she possessed at her death.

CIRCUIT COURT.

In the case of Charles Hoops, charged with breaking into Donovan's grocery, the jury disagreed.

Martha Brees was granted a divorce from E. L. Brees, on her cross petition. She was restored to all the rights and privileges of a single woman and to her maiden name, Martha Schaffter. All property that came to either party by marriage relation shall be restored to the one to whom it belongs.

The case of the Commonwealth against Lora for manslaughter is set for Thursday.

The trial of David Gibson of Dover goes over till September term.

Court adjourned till Monday.

Suits filed yesterday:

suits to be worn on the home grounds are white and black, and those on the road, navy blue trimmed in white. Secretary Summers while in the city met Manager McKernan of the Fatall Creek, Michigan, team and he informed him that he would arrive in this city Tuesday with twenty-five men, providing the weather is favorable. Manager Glenn Mc-Cann will leave Cincinnati tonight, accompanied by Alva Welsh, of Manchester, O., where the latter will train for his boxing bout at the Opera-house in this city April 8th.

LINOLEUMS.

Wherever there's constant passing to and fro—in kitchens, dining rooms, halls—we especially recommend linoleum. It is serviceable, sanitary, easily

FOR PRESIDENT,

WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

It is reported that the suffragists of this country are threatening to storm, 50,000 strong, the Republican National Convention to meet the coming summer at Chicago.

After consultation with the Right Reverend C. P. Anderson, Bishop of Chicago and with his approval, Dean Sumner and his co-workers of the Cathedral of Saints Peter and Paul, have agreed upon an advanced policy with regard to the administration of marriage in the Cathedral. Beginning with Easter, no person will be married at the Cathedral unless they present certificate of health from reputable physicians to the effect that they are normal, physically and mentally and have neither incurable nor communicable disease.

The American people of all sections have taken note of the real spirit of the Roosevelt propaganda and what little enthusiasm it at first engendered has been dissipated. The man who seeks to dominate American conditions by his personality has lost the magnetism of the past because he has turned from the Republican principles that alone could attract and hold to him the party to follow the chimeras that one must adhere to in the promotion of personal power. Not all the money lavishness of the Roosevelt promoters can influence the verdict of the people. The Roosevelt campaign is a failure.—Baltimore American.

In 1864 when the Civil War was on there was an organized movement among certain Republicans who were opposed to the nomination of Lincoln for a second term. The true Republicans demanded the renomination of Lincoln. He was nominated and elected in 1864 for the second term.

In 1872 when certain disappointed men set out to betray General Grant the true Republicans came to his rescue and fought his battle through a very exciting campaign to a glorious end.

In 1912 a radical minority is trying to force upon the Republican party experiments in legislation which are at variance with the policies that have contributed to Republican success and great national progress.

The prosperity and welfare of the people of the United States demand the renomination of President Taft, whose administration of the office of President has given assurance of his fidelity to true Republican principles, and his ability to discharge in a satisfactory manner the duties of his high office.—Judge George M. Thomas in Vanceburg Sun.

HOT FLASHES.

Women in middle age often complain of hot flashes. They are at that stage of life—when their delicate organism needs a tonic and helping-hand which only Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can give them. Many women suffer needlessly from girlhood to womanhood and from motherhood to old age—with backache, dizziness or headache. A woman often becomes sleepless, nervous, "broken-down," irritable and feels tired from morning to night. When pains and aches rack the womanly system at frequent intervals, ask your neighbor about Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Mrs. J. L. Linn, of 221 S. Benton Street, Baltimore, Md., says: "I wrote you about nine months ago, telling you of my condition. I have a fine baby girl—she weighed nine pounds when born. She is my third child and the strongest of them all. My suffering was only for two hours. I took several bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and one of Dr. Pierce's Smart-Weed. I never had a well day before I took your medicine. I was surprised how well I felt—could eat—was always hungry, and never had a sick stomach. The nurse who was with me said the medicine was wonderful because I got along so nicely after having had so much trouble before. She intends to recommend it to all her suffering patients. Everybody is astonished at me because I only weighed 100 pounds before and now I weigh 135. I have had several ladies come to me and ask about Dr. Pierce's medicine. I am willing to recommend it to all who suffer and want help. I want information I will be glad to give it to them."

Roosevelt defeated and repudiated, will it be said at Washington, spring a dark horse to defeat Taft at Chicago. This is a mere twaddle, as there will be practically nothing to do at the convention except to adopt a platform, nominate Taft and adjourn. Taft already has enough votes, counting the solid South and Pennsylvania, to turn the trick. T. R. had better keep out of politics and go back to his desk and stay there.

The Kentucky farm train is on its travels and the dispatches bring the gratifying intelligence that it is attracting large crowds at all stopping places.

The Agricultural Special.

The train is to continue its travels for a month, in which time it will visit every section of the State and almost every county that can be reached by railroad. Kentucky is just entering upon the farming season of 1912 and the advent of the agricultural special is timely. Agriculture is our "main stake" in Kentucky, and there is progress in agricultural endeavor as well as in other lines of occupation. Most of the States have been spending money liberally to educate their farmers to more intelligent effort and to more intensive farming, and expenditures of that sort are a good investment. In Kentucky we are waking up to the necessity of some effective campaigning and the farm train is one of the results.

Commissioner Newman, Judge Barker and their fellow workers are to be congratulated on the auspicious opening of the farm train campaign. It will exert a strong influence for "more crops and better crops," and for general improvement in all vocations and conditions of rural life.—Courier-Journal.

Political Pickings

Detroit Free Press: The Roosevelt bureau is now nothing but a kitchenette.

Davenport Democrat: The great American game isn't baseball, not this year.

Atlanta Constitution: "Where is my wandering hat to-night?"

Denver Republican: Colonel Roosevelt cannot take exception to the coldness of the Western states toward the third-term candidacy. They are only taking him at his word and recalling their former decision.

Kansas City Times: Mr. Roosevelt has observed that there is nothing in the Fourteenth Amendment against taking public property for private use without due process of law.

New York Sun: If the Hon. William J. Bryan had the slightest magnanimity in his soul he would warn the other Colonel of what the cheering means.

Pittsburgh Gazette Times: Colonel Roosevelt's platform collapsed in Maine. "As Maine goes, so goes the Union."

Buffalo Express: We believe it was Lincoln who once said that you can fool all the people part of the time and part of the people all the time, but you can't fool all the people all the time.

HAPPENINGS IN THE CITIES

Crossing Policeman is Like a Crusoe

CHICAGO.—"Who is the loneliest person in Chicago?" asked a traffic policeman the other day, an officer who sometimes looks at things from a novel standpoint. "It is not the trib tender, the bridge tender nor the night watchman. It is not the elevated train operator in his secluded cage. It is not the scrubwoman who sweeps out the empty skyscraper between midnight and sunrise. It is not the milkman nor the man who puts the town to bed. All of these are lonely, but none of them so lonely as the traffic 'copper'.

"This desolate Robinson Crusoe marooned in a sea of traffic with thousands of bustling his elbows, with the hoarse cries of coal wagon drivers and the honk of automobile horns ever in his ears, holds the palm as the loneliest man. Standing squarely in the heart of the city's uproar, his solitude is deeper than that of the hermit or the aviator near the altitude mark."

"I could stand this job better," continued the chaos dissipator at one of the busy downtown intersections several days ago, waving back a taxi with one hand and drawing forward a tiny girl in a polo coat with the other. "If it wasn't so lonesome, I used to get so tired standing on my feet all day that I didn't notice it at first, but lately that thought has been coming to me more and more. Why, sometimes I get so lonesome that I say 'Hello' to some wagon driver, and that's a dangerous thing to do. One morning while I was standing here and thinking what a terrible thing it is to be all alone in the world along comes a big wagon with a red headed fellow sittin' on the seat that looked like one I used to know, and I yells out 'Hello, Hank!' and the guy was so surprised he nearly fell off his seat."

"Hello yourself, you big stiff!" he says. "Don't try to kid me. I'm wise to you. I'm drivin' this team right and you can just let me alone."

"After that there was nothin' I could do but plunk him—had to use my club some, too. That's just one instance. Oh, of course, I talk at a lot of people and they talk at me, but what's the good of that? They're none of them talkin' to me. You're the first one I've had a real conversation with on the job for about a month, I guess."

"They get like that," said a man who knows all about traffic policemen and others, too. "I've seen them get so lonesome on that loop job that they ask to be shifted."

Negress Lost Her Chinese Bridegroom

VANCOUVER, Wash.—A comic tragedy in which a Chinaman of Portland and a young negro woman, attired in an old rose colored suit, topped off with a red hat, were actors was staged on the lawn of the county courthouse, with the employees of the building and callers as the audience, when a vain attempt was made to obtain a marriage license. The super was another negro, at least six feet tall, who was to have been the witness had the Chinaman not fled from behind an evergreen tree, where he was left by the young woman in old rose.

The Chinaman, about forty years old and well dressed, wearing no queue, but American clothes, appeared at the courthouse at an early hour, accompanied by the young negress, who he said was twenty-four years old. She was toggled out for the happy occasion with a huge bow of black ribbon to hold the front edges of the coat together, an immense red hat and a tremendous smile upon her face.

Finding the auditor's office all right, the Chinaman asked his all-important question, "Catchem license?" He was told that a witness was necessary before the paper would be issued. Turning to his partner, he said: "I know nobody; you catchem witness—me wait. You go downtown—catchem witness, come back, we get married."

Taking the native of the Orient to the front of the yard, the negro lassie hid him behind a tree, and admonishing him to remain under cover, she stalked down the street, the plumes in her hat fluttering in the breeze.

Witnesses must have been hard to find, for it was fully three hours before she returned with a tall man of her own race, who was willing to swear that he knew both persons who were desirous of being married. Going stealthily toward the tree, she peered behind it, but the celestial was not there. He had become tired and had lost faith in the negress, and said to the sheriff as he started down the street: "She no catchem witness, no catchem ferry—go home. I guess she no come back. Me go home."

Golden Wedding is Copy of Original

INDIANAPOLIS, IND.—With the same menu that was spread before them fifty years ago, and with several of the same persons as guests who were present at their first wedding supper, Mr. and Mrs. Levi C. Bowser the other evening observed the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage by serving a wedding supper to their children and a few friends.

When Miss Caroline Dawson became the bride of Levi C. Bowser on March 6, 1862, the event was followed by a bounteous supper at the country home of the bride's father, John M. Dawson, then one of the prominent farmers of Marion county, Turkey was the plectra de resistance of the happy feast, and turkey was served to the wedding guests again.

The guests who witnessed the wedding fifty years ago and were present on this occasion were Capt. Byron Dawson, retired army officer; Richeson Moore, and Mrs. Nancy Graham. There were about fifty persons at the original wedding, but these are the only ones now living in Marion county.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowser have lived for more than forty of the fifty years of their married life in their present home. In many respects theirs has been an ideal romance. Mr. Bowser's father also was a pioneer farmer of the county, and owned a farm adjoining the Dawson farm, about three miles south of Indianapolis. As playmates in their childhood, lovers in their youth and husband and wife in later years hardly a day of their lives has passed but what they have seen each other.

For many years Mr. Bowser conducted a grocery at South street and Virginia avenue and later at Fletcher avenue and Shelby street, but retired from business several years ago.

Mr. Bowser is seventy-four years old and Mrs. Bowser is sixty-eight. He is in excellent health, but Mrs. Bowser has been confined to her chair from rheumatism for several years.

Smugglers Tried to Beat Uncle Sam

NEW ORLEANS.—One of the "oddest" cases that have puzzled the local customs department happened a few days ago, and, as in the great percentage of cases, the land agents of Uncle Sam guessed right and saved the old gentleman a few dollars in addition to knowing that they had saved him from being "bunkoed."

Under the parcels post and the customs regulations, provision is made for a certain class of "samples" which may be sent into this country. Although strict restrictions are drawn, there are many foreigners who try every year to use this little loophole as one through which to send goods without paying duty. Knowing this, all "samples" are subjected to close scrutiny by the government agents.

It seems that a gentleman in Asia Minor, the City of Smyrna, sought information from friends in New Orleans with a view to sending to do a small business in the loop-hole.

The goods he intended to send were of choice morocco leather, to his friends here. Of course, they were "samples." The agents looked at them carefully, saw the fine workmanship and valued them accordingly.

Then they calmly put the shippers on a shelf and waited—and smiled. And in three weeks there came a second package of "samples" to the same party. They pulled "bundle one" from the shelf, and found that the two bundles made twenty-four pairs of the shippers, all matched. The astonished recipient finally secured them by paying the duty, about one-half their value.

And the custom house man put it down as an "odd" case and waited for the next sharp foreigner.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are cured by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

R. L. Hoeflich's Last Letter From the West Indies—Canal Zone Chief of Police After Him

Although "Bob" Hoeflich has returned home to Maysville, we print his last letter to THE LEDGER written from the West Indies, as it has many items of interest to our readers. The letter follows:

My last letter was mailed at Port of Spain, Trinidad. There was to be a steamer soon to New York. This is a clean, typical English city, very quiet at night. The bay is grand. We enter the Gulf of Paria through the Dragon's Mouth, a very narrow strait and each side has lovely summer homes of the English people that are on the island for the Government or business.

It reminds one of Thousand Islands. We anchored three miles out and enjoy going as we have in the motor boat; very frequently we are pretty wet when we land but soon dry in these warm climes. The electric car system is pretty good, as it comes from New Jersey. The Public Buildings very good, all with beautiful gardens and courts filled with plants and flowers that make hotel palm gardens look like a millinery shop. The English residents have fine club houses, a modern hotel, bathing beach &c. The athletic fields are great; we saw a football game. At every turn one is asked to have a pyrrho, monkey or some other thing, and the number of them aboard would surprise any one. A parrot is usually priced at 40 shillings, $5, and is usually bought for $2. Monkeys are bought for $5. We were out to the famous Pitch Lake and it is a stormy place. A place covering 110 acres is filled with soft pitch or asphalt and after digging out a few feet is level the next morning.

Our next stop was Fort of France, Martinique, as French as any city in France. It has many good buildings, Public Library, Palace of Justice, statue to the Empress Josephine, who was born there. It is at the base of a mountain range rising to 5,000 feet. The market was fine and the fruits good and cheap.

It was fine to go shopping, as only French is spoken. We then went to St. Pierre and saw the modern Pompeii; the devastation is appalling and one is chilled by the place, although it was over 100 degrees in the shade. Mt. Pelee is smoking at several places and may break out at any time. Lilaolu's birthday was celebrated aboard by trimming the ship with flags, American music at dinner, Lilaolu pudding to eat and a lovely dance with decorations that were beautiful and all electric lights on deck covered with red, white and blue Japanese lanterns, and at the close all stood and sang the Star Spangled Banner and America.

The next day we were at Charlotte Amalie, 1-1/2 miles from St. Thomas. A beautiful bay and an island covered with cultivated fields greeted our eyes. We were soon ashore and everyone was busy shopping. One hat store here has more Panama hats than all Maysville could wear giving each one a hat. The town of 1,000 was beautifully decorated for a celebration of Valentine's Day. We went to a reception of the Acting Governor in the afternoon and in the evening the cruise party was entertained with a dance and banquet at the Grand Hotel and there we had the best time of the whole trip, met all the Danish lovers from the city and ships in harbor. Confetti was showered by the barrel on every one. At near midnight the band played the national airs of England, France, Denmark and then all joined in on the Star Spangled Banner and a crowd followed us to the deck singing and cheering for America.

St. Thomas is spending millions in improving the harbor and building a pier and expects to be greatly benefited by the canal.

Early the next morning we were at San Juan, Porto Rico, on our own sail, and right good it looked to see the stars and stripes floating from the public buildings. San Juan is quite Spanish in architecture in the city, but the suburbs are lovely and have many handsome homes and gardens that would make a cottage look like a palace. They have a good system of electric cars, lovely parks, bathing beach, etc. The island has many miles of good roads and automobiles are plentiful. The island is pretty well cultivated and there tropic fruits of all kind are plentiful and cheap.

The whole party was pleased with San Juan and think Uncle Sam has a fine island, and one that should attract people and money, for it would make an ideal home for the wealthy, and the poor could enjoy eternal summer and not worry about the coal rates.

Two nights and days and lovely Nassau is reached. I was the second one ashore—tried awful hard to be first, but one beat me to it. The biggest part of the party went to the island beach and went in bathing, and it was fine. Imagine bathing in the sea in February; well it was as warm as June.

Half-way the island there is a bowl, and here one is given free all the fruit they can eat, oranges pared, bananas, coconuts, and they are the best ever. Flagler has built a magnificent hotel here and the girls are the finest in the world; no place else has such palms.

My friend is an English army officer, and certainly treated me royally; both he and his wife even came out to the steamer.

About fifty of our party stopped in Nassau and will return via Miami, Florida.

Two more days and nights, unfortunately of storm after storm, and from June to February change in weather, brought us to New York.

Then the scramble through Custom House, any hat to walk up and add his mite to the Governor's hat for over-buying cigars, buy rum, Panama hats, etc.

So ended one of the most delightful trips I have ever known, and I can only wish that all my friends will some day see the beauties of the West Indies, the Canal, etc.,

Yours Very Truly,
ROBERT L. HOEFLICH.

WITNESS AFTER WITNESS IN MAYSVILLE

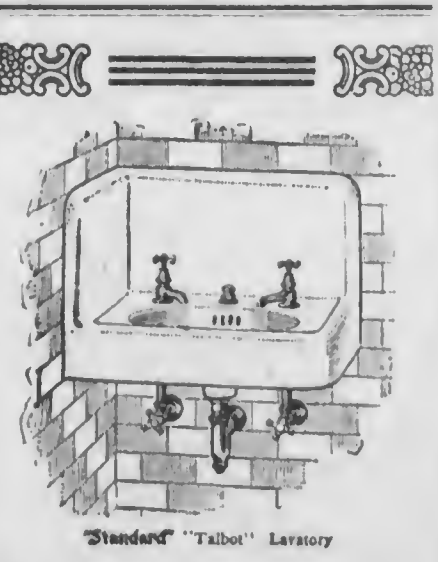

SUCH EVIDENCE OUR READERS CANNOT DISPUTE

As we take up THE LEDGER week by week, we are struck by the hearty, unmistakable way in which witness after witness speaks out as Mrs. McClalland does here. If these people were strangers living miles away, we might take little notice of them. But they are not. They are our neighbors, living among us. Their word is too easily proved to admit of any doubt. They speak out in the hope that their experience may be a guide to others.

Mrs. Annie McClalland, 541 West Second street, Maysville, Ky., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills did me a lot of good and I recommend them as doing just what is claimed for them. I was often dizzy and nervous and my head ached. I had pains in my back and my kidneys were weak. Doan's Kidney Pills stopped the complaint immediately and made me well and strong."
